The screenshot shows the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa Library homepage. At the top is the university logo and navigation links: Services, Research, Help, About, ILL, My Account, and a search icon. Below this is a large banner image of the Hamilton Library building. Overlaid on the banner is a search bar with the text "What can we help you find?" and a "OneSearch" button. To the right of the search bar is a "Today's Hours" box for Monday, September 10, 2018, listing hours for Hamilton Library (8:00am - 10:00pm) and Sinclair Library (24 hours). Below the banner are five main service tiles: "RESEARCH GUIDES" (Find sources by subject), "DATABASES" (Find articles, books, and more, includes Google Scholar and JSTOR), "E-JOURNALS/E-BOOKS" (Find online journals and electronic books), "STUDY SPACES" (Areas for individual and group study and how to reserve them), and "HAWAII VOYAGER" (Search for materials in our online public access catalog). A sidebar on the left is open to the "Engineering" section, showing a list of research guides: Biological Engineering Library Research Guide, Civil and Environmental Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering. Annotations with lines pointing to specific features are provided: "To request items we do not own (it takes time!)" points to the ILL link; "To locate a direct link to an ebook or ejournal" points to the E-JOURNALS/E-BOOKS tile; "To find out what we own in our library" points to the HAWAII VOYAGER tile; "To go to a specific database" points to the DATABASES tile; and "To reserve Group Study Rooms (for two or more people) or Presentation Practice Rooms" points to the STUDY SPACES tile.
